

I Bow To You

What others see is my privilege.

They focus on the power
that I embody and exercise.

The deference they offer is understandable.

When I examine myself,
I marvel that I was chosen.

I know who I am;

I bow to You.

All I want
is to bow to You.